IMPORTANT

WRONG
ADDRESS = PENSION STOPS

If you receive the payment of your pension by cheque, don't forget to notify the Commission de la construction du Québec when you change your mailing address, because payment of your pension will stop if there is an incorrect address in your file.

SUPPLEMENTARY TAX DEDUCTIONS AT SOURCE

You must inform us of all desired changes that may lead to an increase in your tax deductions at source. In such a case, you must send us the following forms:

- Source Deductions Return (TP-1017 – provincial)

You may obtain this form by going to a Revenu Québec office or online at revenuquebec.ca.

- Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1 – federal)

You may obtain this form by going to a Canada Revenue Agency office or online at cra.arc.gc.ca.

Your annual pension deposit statement will be sent to you by mail.

People residing outside of Canada are not eligible for the direct deposit service.

Surviving spouses who receive a pension are eligible for the direct deposit service, but may not subscribe to the CCQ's online services. In this case, contact customer services.

Please note that when there is a death, all transactions made in the deceased's account are usually suspended until the estate is settled. To avoid this inconvenience, we strongly recommend that your pension be deposited in a personal bank account that is not a joint account.
